OVER 53 MILLION STREAMS ACROSS PLATFORMS!

There is a grit that seems to seep from every note Lewis Brice sings.

"I've always been a big believer in just keeping my head down and just grinding until you make it," says the vocal powerhouse that has made a career out of a sound found squarely at the intersection of country, southern rock and R&B. "What's supposed to happen is going to happen. And at this moment, it seems like everything is starting to happen."

Brice started making substantial waves in the industry with 2010's "Ordinary Girl." He competed on CMT's Can You Duet? snagging a top ten spot after beating thousands of his fellow music-makers. He took the lead role in brother, Lee Brice's "I Drive Your Truck" music video and took home a British CMA Award for "International Song of the Year" for his heartfelt song "Blessed." With more outstanding original tracks such as, "It's You (I've Been Looking for)" "Summertime Vibes," "Messin with my mind" and "Call Me Yours," Brice has surpassed over Fifty Million streams across the digital platforms.

He has received accolades from the likes of Rolling Stone and Billboard and has shared the stage with acts like Luke Bryan, Dierks Bentley, Hank Williams Jr. Gary Allan and Lee Brice just to name a few.

Today, Brice finds himself with a fresh publishing deal with Double Down/PIA and a highly anticipated ten-track album that will deliver his fans his most impressive music yet.

"Sometimes, you have to take some different routes to get where you were always meant to go," Brice explains. "But if it's your passion, I think you can find the sun on the other side of the rain." Indeed, it's his life's trip that is chronicled on Brice's new album, which documents late nights of hard work and just what the love of a good woman can do. "She made it hard for me to write a sad song," Brice says quietly of his wife, Denelle.

But make no mistake – Brice is nowhere close to tying a shiny bow on life just yet. "I can still write songs about broken hearts and promises...because I've been there. But I've also got a lot of life experiences to share, both good and bad."

With Lewis Brice, the glass is always half full. As in his song inspired by Matthew McConaughey's quote, "Let me tell you this, the older you do get, the more rules they're gonna try to get you to follow. You just gotta keep livin man, L.I.V.I.N."
